- Delivery of a successful, world-class conference

Consistent success with INCON

Working with INCON provides access to a pool of indispensable resources from local knowhow to worldwide presence. INCON partners are both destination and global based, offering Associations and Corporations the unique benefits of both: deep roots in local communities and strong connections around the world.

INCON partners work closely with each other to ensure continuity of customer service from partner to partner and from destination to destination.

Preferred PCO

Many of our customers have adopted the Core PCO model for recurring conferences and events: this model ensures seamlessness and continuity of service from year to year. We now offer an alternative to this. We invite associations with strong local organising committees to work with their INCON partner in the preparation of conference bids.

INCON will guarantee full transfer of event data and knowledge from one year to the next, so you benefit from the same continuity as with a core-PCO model.

Association Management:

Many Association customers now retain INCON partners to provide full or partial professional management of their Association. These Association Management Services include: strategy and executive leadership development, membership marketing & administration, public affairs, sales and fund raising, certification and component relations. INCON partners offer a flexible, efficient and value driven solution in line with specific Association objectives.
